Can you recall in 1970 when you saw 326 Freshmen students hurrying to Liberty Union High School? Remember the knee socks and straight legged jeans? Today, 262 students will travel through the halls of Liberty and tomorrow the class of '74 will be seen no more.

Let's journey back and catch a few fragments of yesterday. The Class of '74 was first led by a woman president, Teresa Graves. Her rookie officers included the bandit, Sandie Ayres; first vice-president, Richard Navarro; second vice-president, Janet Evans; secretary, Louise Pacheco; treasurer, Kyle Ferrill; and first-time advisers, Mrs. Janette Evans and Mr. Dennis Buckley. They learned to organize dances, cake sales, sale of corsages and other money making events by trial-and-error. They found out how to put a float together in very short time with an occasional egg or tomato. Their theme, "Mats Can't Dig" was seen Homecoming night among the other floats.

Thundering cheers and voices always are in the minds of any freshman who attends his first rally. And always, Homecoming Rally is the loudest. Here, spirit jugs are given to the most spirited boy and girl from each class. That year enthusiastic KK Harrison and spirited Burt Broussard received the trophies.

We are sure it is known to all that history is easy to write because the facts are recorded but the facts are only part of yesterday. To cover the exciting twines, the change of a new beginning and a different atmosphere is only seen in the glow of freshmen. Time flies when new and exciting happenings spring up and now the class of freshmen are budding sophomores.

Homecoming soon was a great experience once the Class of '74 "got it together". From raising the most money in the penny drive contest to jugging an egg on a spoon, the sophomore class led the school, they received the most points during Homecoming day which entitled them to the spirit trophy. Later the same night, the sophomores went on to win the float competition with the theme "Burn the Indians", breaking the Senior Class record of earning first place. Who can say who should receive credit for the hard work? The new advisers, Mrs. Janette Evans and Mr. John Meyer? Or officers Bobby Knight, president; Kyle Ferrill, vice president; Dina Galletti, secretary; Laura Serna, treasurer; or Jeff Wheeler, representative? Or a group of hard working enthusiastic students working together, striving for a goal? Many nights were spent at Lynn Wolfe's barn constructing the float. This year no eggs or tomatoes were thrown; only traditional paper flowers along with loyal classmates. Most spirited officer representatives in 1971-72 were Rosemary Sciortino and Ed Laremore.

Selling key chains, sponsoring drive days,trap games, Sophomore Hop was the sophomore class on their way to senior year. On May 6, excite the senior citizens when the climax of the evening arrived when Matt Jacobs and Linda McLendon relinquished their crowns to Burt Broussard, king and Diana Galletti, queen. "Precious and Few Moments" proved to be the appropriate theme for both the couples and queen. The four prince runner-ups were Marty Bacigalupi, Mike DePiazza, Kyle Ferrill, and Mike Sanchez. The four princess runner-ups were Lizzie Dominguez, Laura Kaplan, Roseann Sciortino, and Laura Serna.

Two years down and two more to go was the count done down for the Class of 1974 in 1972. Under their new title, they carried out the slogan, "Big Baj Juniors". For the second consecutive year they maintain "hands up, hands off" to the spirit trophy of Homecoming. They received first places in the bake-off, jello eating contest, and penny raising contest. Along with this announcement came the spirit jugs, going to juniors Peggy Kelly and Mike DePiazza. Later on that night, it was announced that their float received second place in float competition with the theme, "Mug the Mats".

Leading the way for the juniors were Richard Navarro, president; Susan Giannini, vice president; Laura Serna, secretary; Robin Lopez, treasurer; and Billy Graves, representative. Adding to their success were advisers Mrs. Jeanne Glenn and Mr. John Meyer.

From the spirit of Homecoming was the presence of a junior Prom, the class set the theme, "Dancing in the Moonlight." On April 14 wonderful sounds were sent out through an unusual dance contest, "Early Morning''. Girls looking pretty in their formals and guys looking stiff and handsome in suits were seen at this special occasion. Beautiful plants borrowed from Norman's Brentwood Nursery decorated the cafeteria. Finishing touches were added to make it a night memorable for ever more.

1973-74 is the year in which this class ventures into the start of new experiences and adventures. Decision making and soul searching were the seniors first task. Deadlines had to be met for colleges and universities in November. "How fast the years have gone" could have been heard down the halls by the seniors. Three years down and one to go was the count done down by the seniors.

The change out made for an unnoticeable year. Homecoming was the target, their goal - three years of consecutive winning for the spirit trophy. Hard work and strong leaders accomplished this drive. An example of loyalty could have been seen at 4:30 a.m., Homecoming Week, on campus. Either an early-bird or a class competitor could catch Rosy Stanton putting up posters for her class. She went on to receive the most spirited senior along with Steve Cruz. Homecoming arrived and worn-out, long-drawn faces of many seniors headed out to Ohmstede for their last Homecoming party of high school. Their spirit and enthusiasm was seen in the out of the events. Once again they took in the penny drive, egg race, poster contest, and clash day. These seniors set a new record, receiving the Homecoming trophy three consecutive years.

Something new arose from the traditional senior events. A trip to Disneyland on May 31, 1974 was offered to seniors and their dates. Many hard and long hours were put into this new activity. Credit can be given to the senior class officers: Rosemary Sciortino, president; Ed Laremore, vice president; Susan Giannini, secretary; Julia Lasater, treasurer; Anna Loredo, representative; and advisers Mrs. Jeanne Glenn and Mr. John Meyer, also the head of the Disneyland committee, Peggy Kelly. Three chartered buses full of excited seniors and their dates traveled to Disneyland on May 31. They left a 2 p.m. Friday and came back 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Grad night at Disneyland was something no one could forget.

The Edgewater Hyatt House was the scene on May 11, 1974 for the Senior Ball. New York steak was the main course with music by Liberty. This was one of the most exciting feature nights for the Class of '74 to remember.

On June 7, 1974, we saw the seniors march down Ohmstede field for the last time to Band III's Pomp and Circumstances. One could catch glimpses of past memories in many senior's eyes. Fragments of yesterday pranced by fast and soon the graduates of the Class of '74 were no longer a part of Liberty. They could be seen being hugged by classmates, friends, and relatives. Following these ceremonies, a traditional graduation party was held by the Parents Club. One could not help but think that tonight they are together, but tomorrow this class would not be seen as a whole ever again. Each will venture into a new tomorrow, beginning act three of their lives.

Let's catch a look at 73-74's happenings. Can you still see Tony Ball's face with whip cream diligently given to him by Rosemary Sciortino, senior class president?

Homecoming proved what determined juniors they are. Every contest entered was with a strong will and fight. They placed second in float competition with the theme, "Shoot 2 Victory". Their officers Tony Ball, president; Paula Graves, vice president; Rosemary Sciortino, secretary; Janet Smith, treasurer; Stella Rios, representative; and advisers Miss Nancy Doi and Mr. Herb Scott contributed much to the long hours spent to make a successful Homecoming.

On April 6 the class sponsored "Pieces of April" for the Junior Prom. This is just one activity added to the pieces of the puzzle of high school life at Liberty.

Out yelling every class except the team at one rally are the powerful sophomores. The spirit of '76 proved to be strong as they placed second in float competition.

Advisers were Miss Pirola and Mr. Jerry Black; officers Kathy Serna, president; Lisa Mune, vice president; Terri Tipton, secretary; Lori Modrall, treasurer; and Julie Desair, representative decided upon an unusual theme, "Grind the Liver more". This effective theme showed loyal classmates and that the spirit of '76 is alive and well at Liberty.

The Class of '77 started the year with many events: orientation, registration, Homecoming, and sports. Neither side swindled, they proved strong as they participated with spirit and enthusiasm in Homecoming. Sports proved strong as the Frosh football team were champions.

Helping to make it a year to remember were Andy Hernandez, president; Robert Ramirez, vice president; Rosemarie Martinez, secretary; Stacey Smith, treasurer; and advisers Mrs. Pat Claywell and Mr. Gary Wilson. With such enthusiasm and spirit, Liberty will have loyal support from the Class of '77.

Dances, homecoming, spirit, work, enthusiasm and school are all fragments of our memories. None of us will forget when the generator gave out during Homecoming when our football team tied with the great San Ramon, going to school in the dark, assemblies to get out of class, and plays and concerts to listen and watch. All of these happenings are just a bit of our lives but they will long be in our hearts and memories.

Sports
Planning, practicing, playing, winning, losing are all fragments of any sport performed by a team.

Returning for the last year of BVAL competition, football was first on the agenda. Handicapped by only a few returning lettermen and the freshly picked WRs, Coach Jack Inger and assistant coach Ron Johnson began the first brief training season. A memorable game was when UL was defeated by the team of American and Opportunity, the former being the score 27-24. The new season, so far, has not produced the intense team effort, but only that they experienced a "hard season."

More valuable player Ed Lawrence was one of the leaders in the sport that flourished in each game. Also contributing to the Lion success were the four thousand players, Kramer, Beaver, defensive tackle Craig Baur, offensive tackle Jerry Righton, the former having made the season's first touchdown. The Lion's victory was only the first, and they had a lot of fun. Most valuable player was Ken Sheehan and team captain was David Black. During midseason, two players were last. With no luck, merely a few seconds were voted the team captain. The game was the last, and the season ended with the team of Beavers, 1975-76.

Activities

Part of any school programs include good activities involving students, teachers, community members, queens and majors in a thing called Homecoming.

On June 7 the Senior Class of '74 took their last steps as students of LUHS. Heather Honegger and Rob Knight were honored as Valedictorian and Salutatorian respectively. The traditional ceremonies of a high school graduation pranced through their lives as the LUHS band played pomp and circumstance. Soon the Class of '74 existed no more. A graduation party given by the Parents Club closed their book of fragments with the fond memories of any high school graduation and high school life.

Our 1973-74 school year began with the traditional Barn Dance sponsored by FFA. At the stroke of 10 p.m. Joey DeBorba, president of FFA, lead the way to the center of Stonebarger Gym to announce our 1973-74 FFA Sweetheart. Leigh Ann Austin, Laura Kaplan, Krism Michaud, Cindy Modrall, and Laura Serna were escorted by FFA members. The traditional corsage was pinned to each girl. Standing in front of the band, the girls were announced one by one by their escort. Finally, the sweetest girl in the eyes of all FFA members was announced. Krism Michaud. She received a traditional kiss from president Joey DeBorba plus the honor of becoming FFA's Sweetheart. Each girl received a bracelet as a memory of the occasion. Without a second to spare, heads turned as the screams and shrills of the doors opened once more with boys and girls tossing each other into the hay. FFA succeeded once again in sponsoring a fantastic dance.

Next on the school calendar was the event that raises Liberty's spirit to its highest peak. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors began their trip for the possession of the Homecoming spirit trophy as the earliest Homecoming known to Liberty - October 12, 1973 - came our way. Long before this date Commissioner of Athletics, Heather Honegger, and her committee began preparations to make a beautiful Homecoming happen. Let's not forget President of Pep Club, Junie Yonemura, and her crew who were in charge of spirit week. Their work left a happy, exciting week for the school to enjoy.

Along with the anxieties floating in the air, more excitement was revealed. Cyndi Celoni, Erica Dawson, Lizzie Dominez, Diana Galletti, Laura Kaplan, Lori Kirkpatrick, Cindy Modrall, Roseann Schurino, Valerie Schurino, and Laura Serna were selected by the Student Body as the Top Ten of the senior class. Following this excitement, these girls names were put up on a ballot for the selection of five, chosen by our varsity football team. Lori Kirkpatrick, Laura Kaplan, Cindy Modrall, Valerie Schurino, and Laura Serna were the pretty girls chosen by the football team.

And after many weeks of planning and preparing, Homecoming arrived. The day started early for many; driving their cars decorated as much as possible. Cars honked all morning long as long lines of cars participated. With only four periods of class, the Student Body headed toward Ohmsmeister field for an afternoon of races and spirit. Each class and faculty participated, giving all they had to do the others.

After the many exasperating events, the Student Body assembled in Stonebarger Gym for the hottest and loudest rally of the year. After an hour of screaming, the rally led into the biggest of the day. On this day, the winner of the rally and the Homecoming trophy, and the most important of the occasion - the announcement of our queen. Sherely Jensen, Commissioner of Rallies, announced the Sophomores as the winner of the rally and the seniors as the winners of the Homecoming trophy. Dr. Michael Adams announced Laura Serna as our 1973-74 Homecoming Queen.

Tears, cheers, and happiness flowed through all.

The afternoon events did not mark the end of Homecoming. The best was yet to come. A parade started the evening with a line of floats, bands, runners, and our queen rode down the streets of Brentwood to Ohmsmeister field in a grand manner. All-tennis were made and displayed by LUHS marching band. The lights were lit as Karl Schurino. 1972-73 Homecoming Queen turned Davina Serna as the band played "Let me call you Sweetheart". Following these royal and traditional ceremonies, a Homecoming dance was sponsored by the Junior Class.

Active clubs provided activities for the students also. AFS sponsored an International Christmas with food displayed from all countries. Jan Duncan, AFS Exchange Student, felt at home with her native food of Ireland and the students of Liberty were given a chance to become closer to the world.

CSF provided a carnival of fun and games brought to you by Ross Last president and a lot of her working CSF members. The Boys Block "L" entertained us with the Harlem Clowns once again in Stonebarger Gym. They appeared on March 14, 1974, playing against the best shooters on the basketball court. They proved to be entertaining both as they beat their opponents. Speaking of Clubs, FFA sponsored a Donkey Basketball game as their tradition goes on, a Luau dinner honoring FFA's with awards, and participating in the Contra Costa and Stockton fairs.

The sophomores and juniors each held a special night for their classes to enjoy. Picking "In the Still of the Night" as their theme on April 28, 1974, the sophomores held the annual Sophomore Hop at the LUHS cafeteria. Their queen and king were announced as Sandi DelBarba and Greg Robinson. Runner-up princesses were Debbie Celoni, Ruth Maciaico, Faye Pastor, and Kaye Pastor, and the runner-up princes were Tony Bruns and Kathy Boudreau, Bobbie DePiazza, and Didi Hernandez. April 6, 1974 was the date picked for the Junior Prom held at the LUHS cafeteria. Complimenting their theme, "Pieces of April", was the music by Maddness.

The seniors chose the Edgewater Hyatt House as their location for their royal celebration. New York Steak along with salad, vegetables, rolls, and potato was chosen as the dinner voted by the class of '74. The band "Liberty" provided the music enjoyed by all who went. All of these nights will leave warm memories in all students and faculty that participated.

Our art department gave Liberty a chance to enjoy the distribution of creation held in Stonebarger Gym on May 20 and 21, 1974. Beautiful wood and art objects hand-made by LUHS students gave the gym a sparkle shown to all Liberty students and the public.

Fantastically displaying talent were the music and the drama departments. Mr. Phil Devine, Mr. Alan Jones, and Mr. Steve Brunswood got it all together producing three plays and seven music concerts. These were enjoyed by all who attended.

Peter Pan: You're a Good Man Charlie Brown; and the melodramas of Eqad, What a Cad; Vaudeville; Fireman, Save my Child; and Dora, the Dishwasher were the plays brought to the students and the public by Playmakers. A year of new ideas and hard work gave Liberty performances that everyone loved to listen and see. This was the first year a musical (You're a Good Man Charlie Brown) was produced at Liberty and there will be many more to come.

The Class of '74 truly made their senior year an "unforgettable" year as they headed to Disneyland on May 31, 1974. The first time offered to Liberty, the seniors took the opportunity by loading three greyhound buses full. Arriving home the next day, many memories could be added to their bulging book of fragments of high school. The traditional senior picnic was held at Oak Park in Stockton on May 26, 1974. Roller-skating, swimming, baseball, and all the other picnic fun was provided.

1973-74 Liberty had seen many awards and honors given out. On May 1, 1974 the first awards assembly was given by CSF. It was the year's honors dinner honoring the top ten in the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes and the top scholars. Next FFA honored their members. Held at the cafeteria Luau style, pins and plaques were awarded to the deserving participants. This took place on May 15, 1974 in the LUHS cafeteria.

The big assembly of the year came on May 29, 1974. Everyone at liberty crowded Stonebarger Gym to watch the seniors receive scholarships and awards. These were given by members of our faculty, guests, clubs of school and community, Bethel Island, Brentwood, Byron, Knightsen, and Oakley. Scholarships went as high as $5,000 and those who earned an award and/or scholarship were justly honored.

Curriculum

Working together is only a portion of teacher - student relations.

Leading the board and school for the 73-74 school year was Joe L. Smith, president, and Leonard Celoni, clerk. Mr. Smith is a safety engineer for a local industrial firm, while Mr. Celoni is the manager of the Oakley Water Distribution. Other members of the board were H. John Bloomfield and Leonard Gerry; both farmers.

Taking aim on community education, Dr. Michael Adams, superintendent, was working to mobilize available human and financial resources into an integrated plan for community needs and wants of the youth and adults in the five separate communities and total area. Dr. Adams was also concerned with systematizing the curriculum programs, studying facilities to fit the enrollment of the school and assisting students and staff in education - considered by him to be the most important.

Helping to organize a citizen's committee on education planning was the main goal of Principal Lou Bronzan, one of the administrators assisting Dr. Adams. Vice-principal Gerald Clayburn remarked that Liberty continued to lead other schools in good behavior and fewer discipline problems. Mr. Vernon Noble, the other vice-principal, commented that freshmen were programmed by computer this fall to try to solve some of the previous problems of freshmen Merry-Go-Round Day.

Involving themselves with the physical and mental health of the student body were the tasks of school nurse Miss Barbara Bonnickson and psychologist, Mrs. June Drake. Miss Bonnickson also assisted with the Candy Stripper program at Delta Memorial Hospital.

Experiencing education through work outside the school consisted of programs using cooperative efforts of the school and community to help students develop occupational understanding from direct participation in the work environment. Students, who were developing good work habits, mature through working with adults and improve their possibility for summer or future employment. Not only did the school assist the student with job placement but also grants a school grade and graduation credit to the student who has satisfactory performance on the job. In charge of the program is Mr. David Kirby.

Working with a special program, opportunity attempts to get students back into the regular school curriculum. The program, designed for those under 16, earns students credits by the hour and was directed by Mr. Dewel Morgan.

Combining talents with the drama teacher in the production of “You’re a Good Man Charlie Brown” was first year teacher Mr. Steve Brunsvold of the Music Department. This year stage band theory, a course for people interested in writing for stage band, was added to the music curriculum. Mr. Allan Jones said that a beginning guitar class and pop chorus will be added for the 74-75 school year.

Expanding bachelor living to a full year course was proposed by the Homemaking Department. Along with the introduction of foreign cooking to Homemaking II, Department Chairman, Mrs. Gayl Krumland, remarked that there was an increased interest in clothing.

Discovering computers was a new course added to the Business Department this year. The department hopes to expand that and business writing into full year courses. Proposed for next year is You and Law and Business Law.

Offering the meat processing class not only both semesters but also for two periods is one aim of the Ag Department for next year. The department has more students than ever before enrolled and hopes to continue interest in public speaking, specifically the Lions Club Speech Contest. Also new for the year was the tagging of fish by the students.

Considering the change in the structure of the Language Arts elective program was a suggestion made by students involved in the school curriculum. The department was also involved in developing a skills program for all English courses and a state wide reading improvement program. They added a second year of creative writing. New to the department were Ms. Linda Nicolson and Mr. Philip DeVine.

Changing the second semester of 9-10 to a selective program was one project undertaken by the Social Studies Department. New courses were added including current events and ancient civilizations. Both freshmen and sophomores were allowed to choose their courses for the second semester. Plans for the 74-75 school year included offering world religions, current world problems, and world ideologies for freshmen and sophomores. California governments was offered to 11-12 graders. Mr. John Artemas joined the department.

Taking algebra as eighth graders necessitated offering geometry classes to incoming freshmen for 74-75 marked Math Department Chairman Jerry Crawford. Teaching Math and Algebra IB plus assisting in varsity football was new teacher Mr. Ron Enos.

Introducing a pilot program was one task undertaken by the P.E. Department this past year. The new course, for 74-75, is called independent study and provides an opportunity for junior and senior boys to fulfill P.E. requirements other than participating in the regular classes. After meeting entrance requirements they are required to have 30 hours of physical activity per quarter and meet once weekly on assigned days. Girls’ P.E. will offer an advanced program that includes softball, gymnastics, volleyball and lifesaving. Girls may sign up for one or all four but instructor permission is required.

Studying the structure and function of the human body (physiology) was a course offered to seniors in the Science Department this year. The department split General Science IB into separate semesters with life sciences taught by Mr. Jerry Black and physical sciences by Mr. Dennis Buckley. Physics students saw the introduction of the Harvard Project Physics that was designed to be a humanistically oriented physics course.

Anticipating ROP (Regional Occupation Program), the Applied Arts Department proposed these classes: combination welding; taxidermy; engine analysis tune up and power train; engine construction, operation and repair; environmental landscaping; tools and equipment; animal slaughtering, butchering and processing; and construction technology. Three new teachers were added to the department - Mr. Ken Harris, Mr. Doug Kirk and Mr. Gary Wilson.

Installing new lights in classrooms and painting the doors different colors occupied part of the time of grounds and buildings crew. Grounds and locker clean up kept custodians busy as usual, remarked Mr. Frank Souza, head custodian.

Filling the bus tanks with gas became a real problem for the Transportation Department. The allotment was cut in January, February, and March; with the cut in March so severe the superintendent was forced to ask Sacramento for an increased allocation to keep buses running. There was little problem in obtaining diesel fuel.

Smiling new faces were added to the secretarial staff this year. Assisting Mr. David Kirby in the W.E.E office was Mrs. Pam Currier. Two new faces were added to the attendance office with Ms. Mary Manko and Mrs. Pat St. John. Miss Denise Castello joined Mrs. Billie Fortner in the administration office to aid in typing federal projects.

Introducing hetopics to the daily a la carte menu helped the cafeteria crew offer students and staff an expanded menu for the school.

Repairing machinery kept maintenance men occupied in the cafeteria to keep food moving out.

Affecting the entire school, students and staff, the energy crises posed numerous problems for all. Field trips were reduced or eliminated, driver’s training was cancelled toward the ends of some months, problems in just getting to school arose and waiting in line became but a FRAGMENT of the life of the people here at Liberty High School.

SUPPORT THE ADVERTISERS
They paid for one-half of this yearbook.
The Annual Staff
Thanks To Those Who Help

A successful yearbook cannot be done by one person or two editors; it takes many hands and hours of working together to achieve this. We feel we have had this behind us from the very beginning. This year proved to be a trying and questionable year but with the help of everyone concerned it was a successful year.

Thanks can go everywhere - for you buying your yearbook; Mr. William Batze, our advisor, who stuck behind us no matter what, giving us the push of encouragement we all need, our staff who never gave up and always worked for and with us; Crete Studios of Lodi for their photography; the Liberty Union High School district; and everyone's continued support. And a special thanks to Bill Stephenson and American Yearbook Co.

Sincerely,

Marlene Modrall

1974 Co-Editors
'Fragments of '74' Sets Theme For Different Book

This year the 1974 Annual Staff ventured into a new and a different book. Filled with new ideas and excitement the staff began its creating. Our first ordeal was the cover. Stepping aside from our traditional cover of school colors—cardinal and gold, we chose a beautiful sunset with the background of darkness. Our theme "Fragments 74" sets the meaning of the yearbook. Next came the change of division pages. A double division page was used with the writing of the subject opposite the picture, taking the place of a single division page and numerous copy blocks in each event. This was done to make more room for pictures and interest to our readers. And last but not least we had color end sheets with a picture of Liberty Union High School marching band, rally squad, football players, and rooters.

As Co-Editors, we feel we are speaking for our staff and us saying we tried our best in making this a good yearbook. We hope all of you enjoy your yearbook of "Fragments 74" and treasure your years at Liberty High School.
